Do I need to attend an interview to claim my prize?

Updated this week

The top three winners of the Trade Master Cup must participate in an interview to claim their prizes. This is a fantastic opportunity to share their trading journey, highlight their strategies, and inspire others in the trading community.

These interviews will also be featured in promotional materials, celebrating the winners' achievements and showcasing their success to a wider audience. By sharing their stories, the winners can motivate aspiring traders and demonstrate the power of dedication, skill, and perseverance in achieving greatness.
