What is the Refund Policy of FundedNext?

Updated over 2 weeks ago

FundedNext offers a refund option if trading has not been initiated within 7 days of registering. This provides you with the freedom to evaluate our platform and services before making a commitment.

Once trading has commenced, the fees associated with your account become non-refundable. Furthermore, if you request a refund after 7 days from the date of your purchase, you will not be eligible for a refund. This policy ensures fairness and maintains a level playing field for all traders.
