What are the differences between Free Competition and the Trade Master Cup?

Updated this week

The Trade Master Cup offers unique advantages that make it a preferred option for traders who want to trade competitively:

- Limited Participants: With a cap of just 5,000 participants worldwide (excluding restricted countries), the competition provides a smaller pool of competitors, increasing your chances of winning.
- Larger Prize Pool: The competition requires a joining fee, but the prize pool is significantly larger, making it a more rewarding opportunity.
- Account Reset Option: Unlike many competitions, the Trade Master Cup allows you to reset your account, offering greater flexibility.

On the other hand, the FundedNext Monthly Competition has no participant limit, making it more accessible to a wider audience. However, it does not include the account reset feature available in the Trade Master Cup.

This makes the Trade Master Cup an excellent option for those seeking a more competitive environment with higher potential rewards.
