

 Search for articles...All Collections > General FAQ > General Trades Query >Can I change or share my Trading Platform Password?

Can I change or share my Trading Platform Password?

Updated over 2 weeks ago

The Master Password serves as a crucial access point to the account and grants control over trading activities and sensitive information. It is possible to change the Master Password for an MT4 or MT5 account, as well as the investor password, directly from the Account dashboard. To proceed with this action, please follow these steps:

- 1. Select the specific trading account for which you wish to modify the password.
- 2. Proceed to the profile section associated with the selected account.
- 3. Within the profile section, locate the Change Password and select the Generate MT4/MT5 Password option.

Please be aware that once you generate a new MT4/MT5 password, it will be sent to the email address associated with your account.

Related Articles

Can I trade on TradingView and link my FundedNext account? >

Am I allowed to Merge my accounts in FundedNext? >

Can I add my FundedNext trading account to Myfxbook? >

Which platforms can I use for trading at FundedNext? >

Can I switch between Trading Platforms? >

Did this answer your question?

support@fundednext.com