

 Search for articles...All Collections > Trading Rules & Guidelines > Does FundedNext allow EAs/Indicators?

Does FundedNext allow EAs/Indicators?

Updated over 2 weeks ago

At FundedNext, traders are welcome to use third-party Expert Advisors (EAs) and Trading Bots on MetaTrader 4 and MetaTrader 5 platforms. Please note that EA trading and Trading Bots are currently not supported on cTrader.

To ensure a fair and transparent trading environment, we have specific guidelines for using EAs and Trading Bots:

1. Traders are required to customize their EA or bot settings to align with their unique trading styles.
2. Each EA or bot is required to employ a distinct strategy, avoiding identical trades across any accounts within FundedNext.
3. There is a maximum allocation limit of $300,000 for each EA or Trading Bot's strategy.

If any of these guidelines are not followed, it may result in a soft breach, requiring the trader to restart their current phase. Multiple soft breaches may lead to potential suspension and reward denial.

We are looking for profitable traders and their profitable strategies, and our goal is to support and empower traders who bring innovation and success to the trading environment.

Related Articles

Which platforms can I use for trading at FundedNext? >

How many accounts can I have with FundedNext? >

Why should I join FundedNext? >

Are there any restrictions on my trading strategy? >

FundedNext New Platform: cTrader >

Did this answer your question?

support@fundednext.com