What rules do I need to follow in Evaluation Challenge?

Updated this week

To ensure a successful trading journey Evaluation Challenge, it is crucial to abide by the following guidelines and restrictions:

Maximum Daily Loss Limit: FundedNext's maximum Daily Loss Limit specifies that you are permitted to lose 5% of your initial account balance on any given day.

Minimum Trading Days: In the Evaluation Challenge, traders only need to take a minimum of 5 individual and separate trades during their trading cycle. Their trading days do not need to be consecutive, and to make things even easier, there is no maximum number of trades they need to take so that they can trade freely. Also, there is no minimum trading day rule in the Evaluation FundedNext account.
